PCB'S IN FOOD-PACKAGING MATERIALS AND CERTAIN FOODS

Notice of Availability of Draft Environmental Impact Statement

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs published a notice of proposed rule making in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 18, 1972 (37 F.R. 5705), limiting the sources by which polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB's) may contaminate animal feed, food, and food-packaging materials during manufacturing, handling, and storage. The notice also proposed limiting the level of PCB's in food-packaging materials and in certain foods containing unavoidable PCB residues as a result of environmental contamination. The proposed action is designed to minimize and eliminate human exposure to PCB's from dietary sources by dealing with identified sources or causes of PCB contamination of food.

Notice is hereby given that a document entitled "Draft Environmental Impact Statement—Notice of Proposed Rule Making: Polychlorinated Biphenyls" has been issued by the Food and Drug Administration. Copies of the statement are available from the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Public Affairs, Room 15B-42, or the Office of the Hearing Clerk, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.
