A No. My efforts were directed at identifying suppliers, period.

Q Okay.

A As such, I did not distinguish between after-market and original equipment.

Q Okay.

A I would like to correct a previous answer.

These suppliers, that I have listed, are original equipment suppliers.

After-market parts were not purchased by Ford Motor Company in the normal course of business for resale to the public.

Q Okay. Could you tell me what years Ford Motor Company purchased brake assemblies, which included brake pads, disc pads or brake linings from the Kelsey-Hayes Company, for the years 1960 to 1975? Do you have a year breakdown of when you purchased from that particular company?

A No, I do not.

Q Do you have any records of when purchases were made from any of these companies you mentioned?

A Other than that they were suppliers to Ford Motor Company sometime during the period 1960 to 1980.

Q Can you tell me what percentage of brake linings and brak pads were purchased from any of these particular companie

A No, I cannot.
