WASHINGTON — The
major sources of lead paint—lead in children would not be restricted by the Federal Government's long-proposed new proposals to limit the lead in paint.

The Food and Drug Administration's proposal would ban toys, pencils and children's furniture that are coated with paint containing more than one-half of lead. It would not in itself ban paint, which the FDA already says the paint industry is not doing to sell.

But it would not in itself
ban paint, which the
sell.
