Kudos Steve! The last thing John H. and I discussed before he left last week was the talc issue, and he seemed a bit concerned regarding how it would play out. I'd be interested in getting your perspective at lunch on what factors prompted this favorable decision.

Congratulations!
Paul

That is good work indeed and not the only achievement this group has made around topics of this nature this year. It all speaks to teaming up the best knowledge we have in the company efficiently

Thanks! annie

Importance: High

To All,
I apologize if some of you get this message twice as I am sending it to several distribution lists and some of you maybe be on more than one of my lists.

Great news. NTP has withdrawn talc from consideration for listing on the 12th Report on Carcinogens. They also have not listed it for consideration on the 13th RoC, as they did for some other materials. Talc was the only material withdrawn.

This is a direct result of our efforts in coordination with Luzenac and CTFA. We did it!
