Dear Katharine:

I have taken the time this morning to examine, somewhat critically, my statement of one page (XV-1) in the papers assembled for issuance to those in attendance. I have concluded that it covers what should be said, and that the amplification as a longer abstract or summary will merely say much the same thing without providing the details of the methods and results which the critical reviewer would need.

Moreover the full papers have been published in the Archives, and your subscribers and those who use the literature in libraries will have no difficulty in obtaining the details.

Accordingly, unless your opinion on this subject differs from mine, I shall make no further contribution to the Symposium. However, if I can help you out in any way, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Yours sincerely,

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
