Some interesting material on PFAS

10 May 2021 18:56:03

Dear Colleagues,

I would like to share with you some links to some material which may be interesting to you.

Indeed some of you may be already aware of this info, via different sources, as the colleagues working on the "universal restriction".

However, it may be good to share it with all the group!

- Health and toxicology data on PFAS: <https://pfastoxdatabase.org/>
- Report on PFAS in building materials: <https://greensciencepolicy.org/docs/pfas-building-materials-2021.pdf>
- Paper product production identified as the main source of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) in a Norwegian lake:

- Other articles of the Green Science Policy Institute from may newsletter are available here: <https://greensciencepolicy.org/news-events/newsletter/may-2021-floor-to-ceiling-forever-chemicals>

Kind regards
