Dear Doctor Kerr:

I am tardy in thanking you for the information on lead poisoning among orchard workers in Washington. I have not had time to study it, because of many apparently inescapable demands on my time, but I shall do so in the near future. At that time I will make any suggestions that seem justified with respect to its publication. This is not just a gesture of postponement. I am lining up a number of items of literature preparatory to the writing of a chapter on lead poisoning in one of the reference works, and it seems best to study this along with some other recent material.

I hope that our paths will cross again in the near future.

Sincerely yours,

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
