RE: ASBESTOS

In early January, Jack Diederich posed the following questions relative to the captioned to the domestic plants in his group.

1. Are we in violation of any regulations?

2. Are we proactive enough? 1989 should be a good year, and it will be a nice time to deal with asbestos issues before they become potential problems.

I doubt if any of you must abide by any regulations at this time, but I would like you to send a brief summary of your views on this subject directly to Jack with copy to me. Please have your response to him by March 6.
