Attachments: Climate Change Conference Schedule Draft 031125.docx

Dear Isabelle,

Secretary Wright gave me your name. The purpose of this email is to invite him to be the keynote speaker at a conference on climate science and policy at The Heritage Foundation, 214 Mass Ave NE, Washington DC 20002. Possible dates are May 5, 9, and 13. We have penciled in time for a keynote address from 11:30 to noon, but the keynote could occur at any time during the day between 9 am and 4 pm. We are glad to build the conference program around his schedule.

The papers presented at the conference by eminent climate scientists can be found at this link here: <https://www.heritage.org/climate-science-advisory>. They will be put into a book that will be presented at the conference. These papers provide scientific evidence that the science is unsettled—that carbon emissions have not caused more wildfires, tornadoes, or hurricanes, nor has these emissions led to sea-level increases. The conference program is attached.

We would be most honored if the Secretary could fit this into his busy schedule. Many thanks for your consideration.

All best,

Diana

Dear Izzy,

Would Alex like to come at 3:15 to deliver a keynote address about what DOE is doing? Or speak in the morning at 9? What is his contact information? Is he confirmed?

Many thanks for your help,

Diana

Dear Isabelle,

Would another member of your team be able to substitute for the Secretary at our conference on May 13? Or could the Secretary do a drop by on his way to the White House?

All best,

Diana

Hi Diana and Happy Friday!

We currently don't have our Deputy Secretary in the building yet. But if you want to reach out in about a week or so I can give you an update on that. Or if there was another member of our leadership team that you would be interested in?

Thank you,
Izzy

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Invitation for Secretary Wright to Keynote Heritage Foundation Conference on Climate Science

Dear Isabelle,

Secretary Wright gave me your name. The purpose of this email is to invite him to be the keynote speaker at a conference on climate science and policy at The Heritage Foundation, 214 Mass Ave NE, Washington DC 20002. Possible dates are May 5, 9, and 13. We have penciled in time for a keynote address from 11:30 to noon, but the keynote could occur at any time during the day between 9 am and 4 pm. We are glad to build the conference program around his schedule.

The papers presented at the conference by eminent climate scientists can be found at this link here: <https://www.heritage.org/climate-science-advisory>. They will be put into a book that will be presented at the conference. These papers provide scientific evidence that the science is unsettled—that carbon emissions have not caused more wildfires, tornadoes, or hurricanes, nor has these emissions led to sea-level increases. The conference program is attached.

We would be most honored if the Secretary could fit this into his busy schedule. Many thanks for your consideration.

All best,

Diana
