ARTICLE C-II—Membership

Section 1. Persons connected with the arts and sciences related to heating, ventilating or air conditioning are eligible for admission into the Society.

Section 4. A Member shall be thirty (30) years of age or over and shall be a person of experience in the science of heat transfer in its application to the art of heating, ventilating or air conditioning, and shall have been in active practice of his profession and in responsible charge of important work for five (5) years and shall be qualified to design as well as to direct such engineering work. Fulfilling the duties of a professor in one of the allied sciences in a college or technical school of accepted standing shall be taken as an equivalent to an equal number of years of active practice. Graduation from a school of engineering of recognized standing shall be considered as equivalent to two (2) years of active practice. (Also see Section 9.)

Section 5. A Junior Member shall be a person over twenty (20) years and under thirty (30) years of age, who has been actively engaged in the work of heating, ventilating or air conditioning for three (3) years, or is a graduate of a school of engineering of recognized standing.

Section 6. An Associate Member shall be twenty-five (25) years of age or over. He need not be an engineer, but must have been so connected with some branch of engineering or the art of heating, ventilating, air conditioning or the industries relating thereto, that he may be considered as qualified to co-operate with heating and ventilating engineers in the advancement of professional knowledge.

Section 7. A Student Member shall be a person between the ages of eighteen (18) and twenty-five (25) years, who is regularly attending courses in an engineering college or technical school at the time of applying for membership.

Section 9. Mining, civil, electrical, mechanical, naval or government engineers, chemists, physicians, scientists, or architects, who are qualified by reason of their experience in designing, improving, inspecting, investigating or developing the arts or sciences of heating, ventilating or air conditioning, are also eligible to membership.

ARTICLE B-III—Admission and Advancement

Section 1. A candidate for admission to any grade of membership in the Society, except Honorary Membership, must make application on a form approved by the Council, upon which he shall write a statement giving a complete account of his qualifications and engineering experience, and an agreement that he will, if elected, conform to the Constitution, By-Laws and Rules of the Society.

Section 2. A candidate for any grade of membership in the Society, except Honorary Membership, must be proposed by two (2) members to whom he must be personally known, except as provided in Section 3, and such application must be seconded by two (2) other members.

Section 3. In case applicants for membership are not acquainted with members of the Society, endorsements from the faculty of educational institutions, or the recommendations of the members of other professional societies, or by the officers of responsible corporations, who are well acquainted with the applicant, may be considered, if sufficient evidence has been submitted to satisfy the Admission and Advancement Committee that the applicant is worthy of admission to membership.

Section 11. Any member of the Society is entitled to membership in the local Chapter nearest to his residence or place of business, provided he pays his Chapter dues in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of that Chapter.

ARTICLE B-IV—Admission Fees and Dues

Section 1. The admission fee of Members, Associate Members, Junior Members and Student Members shall be as determined by the Council until 1940 and thereafter the admission fee of Members and Associate Members shall be fifteen dollars ($15.00); of Junior Members five dollars ($5.00); and of Student Members two dollars ($2.00). Admission fee must accompany application.

Section 2. The annual dues of Members, Associate Members, Junior Members and Student Members shall be as determined by the Council until 1940 and thereafter the dues of Members and Associate Members shall be twenty-five dollars ($25.00); of Junior Members twelve ($12.00); and of Student Members five dollars ($5.00).

Section 3. Honorary Members shall be exempt from payment of admission fee and dues.

Section 4. Of the annual dues paid by members of each grade, a sum equal to its current subscription price shall be considered as a subscription for the JOURNAL of the Society.

Section 5. Of the annual dues paid by Members and Associate Members forty per cent (40%) shall be considered as a direct contribution to the Research Fund and shall be immediately deposited in said fund and shall not be used for any other purpose.

(The Procedure for Election Requires from 60 to 90 Days)
