Dr. A. C. Granch
Union Carbide Company
30 East 42nd Street
New York City

Dear Dr. Granch:

On my return home yesterday morning I got in touch with the local contractors and find that we can construct an additional dust room at a cost which will not exceed $2000. They are prepared to start construction at any time and I would therefore make the Union Carbide the formal proposition to undertake an inhalation experiment with manganese for the sum of $5000 to cover the maintenance of the animals and the necessary treatment of the tissues, plus $2000 to cover the cost of providing another dust room.

For your own information, I may state that I have decided to add another $1000 of my own funds to provide one more room. We need it and learn it can probably be done for this amount.

If we are to undertake this project this winter it will be necessary for us to start construction before the weather gets too cold. I therefore hope that you will be able to give me a definite answer in the very near future so that we may take advantage of existing climatic conditions.

Sincerely yours,

Leroy U. Gardner, M.D.
