Dear Mr. Jackson:

On behalf of the National Mining Association (NMA), I would like to invite you to address a broad section of the mining industry at our upcoming meeting of NMA's Environment Committee. NMA represents the producers of most of the nation's coal, metals, industrial and agricultural minerals; the manufacturers of mining and mineral processing machinery, equipment and supplies; and other firms serving the mining industry. NMA's Environment Committee consists of those environmental professionals whose job it is to understand and guide compliance with the many federal, state and local environmental regulations governing mining activities. The meeting is an informal setting that gives our industry representatives a chance to meet with key agency staff that work on their priority issues.

Notably, NMA's Environment Committee consists of several subcommittees devoted to air, solid waste, and water issues that impact the coal and hardrock mining industry. Our members are very interested in learning more about Administrator Pruitt's priorities and plans for the remainder of the year and into 2018, including any ongoing regulatory reform initiatives or opportunities. Separately, we have invited Albert Kelly to speak at our meeting, specifically on the recent Superfund Task Force recommendations. We look forward to hearing from him on his interest and availability. We have also invited senior leadership at the U.S. Department of the Interior to address our members.

The meeting will be held on Oct. 16 and 17, 2017, at the Renaissance Washington, D.C. Downtown Hotel located at 999 Ninth Street, N.W., Washington, DC. We would welcome an opportunity for you to meet with our members for 60 minutes during either
