Thank you, Bill. I do think a follow-up conversation might be helpful so that I can accurately reflect where the Agency is on this issue. Please let me know when might be a good time to talk. On another note, I really do appreciate your participation yesterday. I thought you did a great job responding to a wide variety of issues, and your obvious breadth of knowledge, common sense approach and willingness to engage with us constructively reflected well upon the Agency and the Administration. Of course, we will continue to agree to disagree on the hardship waivers and apparently will have to continue a dialogue on the RVP issue, but I believe our members are comforted that you will listen to our concerns.

Bob

Hi Bob. Thanks again for the chance to speak with your group this morning. After we spoke, I learned that there is still not consensus on the regulatory path forward on the E15 RVP waiver and related issues. So, things are not as settled as I explained this morning. Wanted to let you know. Happy to have a follow up discussion if that would be helpful.
