

is supplied by O. C. Ryan in submitting this picture in Times Motor-log Contest. The basin or canyon has a string of eight lakes at altitudes around 11,000 feet. A stream affords excellent trout fishing and beautiful camp sites. The upper end of the lake is by jagged peaks of the summit of the high Sierra. To reach: Take San Joaquin, pass right through Mini Canyon to Mojave, Little Lake and Bishop to Turlock north of Bishop. Turn left into canyon and follow creek down and one-half mile. The miles from Los Angeles. Highway good, canyon trail fair.