Consistency

- Has the proposed effect been observed repeatedly under different circumstances?
- Mesothelioma has been repeatedly observed in persons exposed to chrysotile asbestos:

Mechanics who installed brake linings in Canada (McDonald 1970)	Railroad workers using chrysotile insulation in Italy (Malsoni 1991)
Mechanics in the United States (Langer 1982) (Kagan 1983) (Huncharek 1989)	Railroad workers using chrysotile insulation in Finland (Nokso-Kovisto 1994)
Mechanics who installed brake linings in Australia (Leigh & Driscoll 2003)	Railroad workers using chrysotile insulation in the United States (Mancuso 1988)
Textile workers in North Carolina (Dement 1983) (Robinson 1979)	Wives of textile and friction workers in New York (Vienna & Polen 1985)