Dear Scott,

I wanted to thank you and Samantha again for taking of your extremely valuable time and having dinner with me a few Tuesday nights ago. It was just a delightful opportunity to exchange thoughts with you all.

Like yourself, I have a "Kitchen Cabinet" that helps guide me through my professional life.

A sterling member of that Kitchen Cabin is a person named Cindi Berry. You may know of her as Cindy wrote most of the speeches at the past five Republican Conventions. Currently Cindi is Executive Director the Civil Justice Reform Group, one of the most powerful entities (although quite quiet) in the civil Justice arena.

Cindy has excellent political and practical smarts. In that regard, Cindi had recommended a lawyer to me (see below) named [REDACTED] Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy who she thinks would serve you well at the EPA. [REDACTED] resume is attached. It is worth your or one of your colleagues time to give [REDACTED] an interview, if you have openings that would fit [REDACTED] background.

Always know that I am there at all times to be of assistance to you, you are the best! You keep your cool and humility in both calm and shark filled waters. I know those waters will be clean under your leadership at the EPA!

With best wishes, your friend and colleague, Victor
