

Pulham, Grantville as Mary: Douglas Wood, Charles Halton and Leif Erikson.

went back into the army to fight in his second war for the United States and went to France as a combat officer. He was hit twice and came back to Arizona where he lies in a grave which is strangely similar in outlook over the mountains and desert to Boot Hill at Tombstone.

Mrs. Greenway, known all over the state as Isabella, was in congress a few years ago and you may recall that in the early days of the New Deal her close friendship with Mrs. Roosevelt was the subject of much mention. Mrs. Roosevelt had been her maid of honor or vice versa. I forget just which. She is now Mrs. King and one night I met a miner from Bisbee in a little sandwich joint 'way up in the mountains where the air is better who said Mrs. King had got him a steady job up there for his health when he developed t.b. and allowed that the widow of Jack Greenway was the finest woman in the world, bar none.

Arizona highway department checking station figures show an increase of 23,020 vehicles, or 36 per cent, during the four months since December 7 as compared to the same period last year.

The defense council reported that "comparatively few" of the 96,880 eastbound passenger vehicles during the four month period were winter visitors returning home, "since war conditions had reduced the number of vacationers in the golden state the past winter to a marked degree."

Our Indians had no horses or cattle until the Spaniards brought these animals to this continent.

The HOME FRONT

Modern wars are fought on many fronts, and one of them is right at home. Life must go on. People must live, eat, have shelter and clothing and carry on in many ways as they did before the war.
