I took the liberty of updating our initial letter to reflect the time to 10:00am per earlier discussions with your office (letter attached). Also – we are putting the finishing touches on the event request form that Millan sent to us on Monday, and will be sending that along shortly.

Good morning, Scott. Could you resend the initial scheduling request for the March 30 conference? It is buried somewhere in my thousands of emails! Thank you!

We are good to go on march 13 at 4:30. We also can confirm that the Administrator will speak at the conference on March 30. What time did you have in mind? We would prefer that it take place after 9:30 a.m. if possible.

Hi Michelle,

I wanted to follow up with you to confirm that we are on for March 13 at 4:30pm, can you confirm on your end?

Also I wanted to follow up on our request for Administrator Pruitt to speak at NCBA legislative conference on March 30th. I sent a formal request to Amy Dewey back on February 20th. Please let me know if you received our request and if you need any further information, and when you will make a decision.

I look forward to hearing back from you. Thank you!

February 20, 2017

E. Scott Pruitt
Administrator
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
1200 Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20004

Administrator Pruitt,

I write on behalf of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association (NCBA) to request you to speak at the 2017 NCBA Legislative Conference.

NCBA is the oldest trade association that represents U.S. cattle producers, with more than 30,000 direct members. Through state affiliates NCBA represents 175,000 of America's farmers and ranchers who provide a significant portion of the nation's food supply. Cattle producers across the country rallied in support of your nomination to be the EPA Administrator, as memorialized in the enclosed letters.

The audience for the 2017 NCBA Legislative Conference is three-hundred cattle producers who will travel to Washington DC to meet with key congressional and agency influencers on priority issues. A key issue for cattle producers is the "waters of the U.S." (WOTUS) rule, which stands to negatively impact many of our members. NCBA hopes to work with you and relevant staff at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to find a path forward that works for cattle producers, protects water quality, and follows the rule of law.

Should you accept this offer, you will be our keynote speaker. Your speaking engagement will take place on the morning of Thursday, March 30th, at 10:00am. The event location is the Liaison Capitol Hill Hotel, 415 New Jersey Ave NW, Washington DC 20001.

We would be honored for you to join us, and we sincerely hope you will find the time to speak at this landmark event. Many NCBA members have already reached out to me expressing gratitude that you have been confirmed as the EPA Administrator and hopeful for the future. You can reach me directly at the phone number or email address below.

Sincerely,

Scott Yager,
