

1 sheets, talked about the dependent's name and date and
2 birth of the spouse, who was receiving support by Mr.
3 Grewe, what was his educational background, his 4 employment history, his earnings history.

5 Any information that would be available in 6 order to substantiate the document and earnings,
7 occupational history, and also to collect the 8 necessary information in order to make the projections
9 as to what the potential earning losses would be.

10 Q I take it, Doctor, you have had experience 11 in performing economic evaluations of this type in 12 personal injury cases before?

13 A Yes. I have been doing that since about 14 1984, and I have done several dozen a year. Not 15 several dozen a year. I do currently -- about the 16 last three years, I have been doing about 25 of these 17 cases a year.

18 That would be including the personal injury
19 and wrongful death both for plaintiffs and for 20 defendants.

21 Q And the information that was provided to you
