COPY

It is our opinion that it would cost approximately $3000 to get some indication as to the feasibility of a different process. It would also require the services of one man for approximately one month. We do not have such a man available unless we drop other work and/or extend such an investigation over a considerably longer period of time.

We would appreciate your comments and your advice as to whether or not we should proceed.

V. J. Labrecque

VJL:sp