Subject: VMC-100 REGISTRATION

I spoke with Jeff Kempteor at EPA, our registration product manager for VMC-100, on November 17. I told him we were very concerned that we had received no word on our testing protocol questions or our extension of testing due date request. I emphasized that November 25 was fast approaching and we were unsure of the status of our conditional registration at that point.

He stated that the registration would not automatically lapse on November 25. He would have to officially revoke the registration and he had no intention of doing so, because we had demonstrated good faith effort to meet our conditions of registration by trying to resolve technical concerns before proceeding with the testing. He expects to grant our request but is still waiting for the Hazard Evaluation Branch to finish their review of our request.

The saga continues! I'll keep you updated.
