

P. J. Kober

Todd M. Haley
May 31, 1989

Pond Resin Blend Tanks Exhaust System Revision

The current air exhaust system for the Pond Resin Blend Tanks located in V-10 Has horizontal piping which consistently plugs with resin. To eliminate the plugging problem this design will replace the horizontal duct work with vertical piping. The existing fan will also be replaced with a larger volume fan to reduce the risk of VCM exposure while operation. Please contact me or V. L. Thornhill if there are any questions or comments about this design.

T. M. Haley
Coop Process Engineer