A WAY TO REMEMBER

YOUR TRIP ABROAD

by Diane Easton

THE VACATION SEASON is ending and many San Franciscans will be returning home from trips to foreign shores, including round-the-world cruises. Most travelers accumulate a great many mementos on any trip, be it long or short. The problem always arises of how to show off these cherished items. Here are a couple of ideas that will give you a clue on what to do with your collection. At right, travel literature, pamphlets, maps and timetable folders have been used to cover a corner of a breakfast room wall. Below, foreign coins are displayed between two sections of plate glass in a dinette table. Since the coins are of different thickness, all are held in place on the lower glass by a spot of clear glue.
